"March bustles in on windy feet,
And sweeps my doorstep and my street.
She washes and cleans with pounding rains,
Scrubbing the earth of winter stains.
She shakes the grime from carpet green
Till naught but fresh new blades are seen.
Then, house in order, all neat as a pin,
She ushers gentle springtime in."

- Susan Reiner, Spring Cleaning

GREAT TIP TO KEEP DEER FROM EATING SHRUBS (Submitted by a Dover Resident)
I was told by a well known local gardener to watch the browsing pattern of deer as they walk through my yard. Then at the beginning of September to spray Liquid Fence on all the shrubs the deer would normally walk by-- even those they do not eat. It seems that in September deer set up the path they will forage on during the winter months. If you discourage them from walking that path in September, they will find other paths. This winter I have been watching the deer walking through my neighbor's yard and not mine. The Liquid Fence seems to have discouraged them from my property.
Who is St. Patrick Anyway?
According to the World Book, St. Patrick lived about 389-461 A.D., and is the patron saint of Ireland. Patrick was chiefly responsible for converting the Irish people to Christianity. He became known as the Apostle to the Irish. His Latin name is Patricius. Patrick was born in Britain. His father was a wealthy alderman and a Christian. When Patrick was 16 years old, pirates captured him during a raid and sold him as a slave in Ireland. He served as a shepherd of an Irish Chieftain in Ulster. During his captivity, he dedicated himself to religion. After 6 years of slavery he escaped and returned home to Britain.
As a result of his experiences in Ireland, Patrick became driven by the idea of converting the Irish to Christianity. To prepare himself for the task, he studied in the monastery of Lerins, an island off the coast of France. He also went to Auxerre, France and studied religion under Saint Germanus, a French Bishop. Partly because Patrick's earlier education was inadequate, his religious superiors were reluctant to let him return to Ireland as a missionary. After Palladius, the first Irish missionary bishop died in 431, Pope Celestine I sent Patrick to Ireland. Patrick began his work where no one had ever preached Christianity. He gained the trust and friendship of several tribal leaders and soon made many converts. He is said to have founded more than 300 churches and baptized more than 120,000 people.

The Shamrock
The shamrock (at one called the "Seawoy" is a type of small herb with leaves made up of three leaflets, and is the common name for any of several three-leafed clovers native to Ireland. The Irish have considered shamrocks as good luck symbols since earliest times, and today many people of other nationalities have adopted that belief. It has become the national symbol of Ireland, because of the legend that St. Patrick used it to illustrate the doctrine of the Trinity.

JOKE OF THE DAY!!!

Paddy was riding along the road one fine day when the local policeman, a friend of his,
pulled him over.
"What's wrong, Seamus?" Paddy asked.
"Well didn't ya know, Paddy, that your wife fell out of the car about five miles back?"
said Seamus.
"Ah, praise The Almighty!" Paddy replied with relief. "I thought I'd gone deaf!"
The Dover Police Department Will Dispose of Your Unwanted Prescription Drugs

If you have prescription drugs in your medicine cabinet that you no longer need, the Dover Police Department has a new drug take-back container – and you are invited to use it. The new secure prescription drug collection container can be found in the police lobby of the Dover Police Department.

The container is self-serve and there is no paperwork or questions involved – it is as easy as returning a library book in a drop box. Taking a few minutes out of your week to safely dispose of un-used prescriptions, particularly pain pills, might save someone a lifetime of addiction and its consequences.

No Power?  What a “Bright” Idea!
(Submitted by a resident)

I never thought about those solar lights.......good idea! I really like this idea for power outages. We were scrambling around in the darkness, looking for matches, candles, flashlights, etc. We looked Outside, and noticed our solar lights shining brightly. We walked outside, and brought several of the solar lights inside.

We stuck the solar light pipes into plastic drink bottles containers and they made the nicest, brightest, safest, lighting you could ever imagine. put one in the rooms you use and there will be plenty of light.

There are all types of solar lights available. If you need a weight in the plastic bottle to keep them from tipping over, you can put a few of the pretty colorful "flat marbles" that they put in aquariums, and vases. (you can also use sand, aquarium gravel, etc., whatever you have available).

The lights we have were perfect inside our home. They burn all night long if you need them.

The next day, you just take your solar lights back outside and they will instantly recharge and be ready for you to use again any time you need them.

Perfect for power outages!
